RICHMOND, VA., will erect a $5,000 statue to EDGAR ALLEN POE. Poor devil of a poet that starved to death.

If things went as smooth at the office as the average man expects them to go at home, there wouldn't be a business pessimist alive today.

"Is THERE one spot in America where absolute quiet prevails?" asks a distracted English tourist. Try Oyster Bay, L. I.—Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

MR. BRYAN resents the idea of a new Democratic party on the theory, doubtless, that a new party might desire a new candidate for President.—Kansas City Star.

PRESIDENT TAFT has shown his wisdom and good judgment at every stage of the work of Tariff making, keeping silent when silence was best and using his influence when it was warranted.

THE high prices of food-stuffs are not affecting the following simple menu: "The family should breakfast on smiles, hopeful words and morning kisses," as discovered by a modern novelist, whose "latest" had fallen short of the publishers' expectations.

THE contrast between the two CARNEGIES, the magazine writer and manifesto maker of today and the ironmaster of former times, who said little, but achieved much, is a striking and almost a painful one. Need it be stated that in point of sincerity and consistency, the latter has the advantage?—Pittsburgh Chronicle.

If General HANCOCK were alive he would still be convinced that the Tariff is a local issue and that it covers every locality in the country. — Philadelphia Inquirer.

THEY tell us that the new corsets are so long below that a woman cannot sit down in one until she gets in shape so as to permit her to do so. Some of them are said to come nearly down to the knees. What will not a woman do to be in fashion?

FRANCIS J. HENEY, the San Francisco lawyer who got $69,000 of Uncle Sam's money for the alleged purpose of fighting SMITZ, RUEF and the other Golden Gate grafters, is a slick one, too, and shows that every man has his price. And it was so easy that taking candy from a baby was hard work compared to it.

NAPOLEON had himself dressed by his attendants from head to foot. He put his hand to nothing, but let himself be dressed like an infant, his mind filled with business during the entire performance. The Emperor was born, so to speak, to be waited on. When only a General he had as many as three valets. —Constant.

"THIS one thing I do," should be the motto of those who desire success along any line. Power becomes useless when it is divided. Dr. TRUMBLE once said that "two brand new locomotives pulling in opposite directions would be worth less as a motive power than one lame mule," and there was wisdom as well as wit in the simile.

OPTIMIST CLUB RULES.

"Optimism bears the same relationship to life that the North Star does to the mariner—it bids us look up."
"A pessimist is a cross between a hope-so and a fact; so is a failure."
"When love dies out of the eyes, no optician can fit glasses that will restore it."
"Suckers are not born; they're the product of an incubator."
"When in doubt, take optimism."
AND THIS—"A smile—God's own medicine."

CONSTIPATION

"For over nine years I suffered with chronic constipation and during this time I had to take an injection of warm water once every 24 hours before I could have an action on my bowels. Happily I tried Cascarets, and today I am a well man. During the nine years before I used Cascarets I suffered untold misery with internal piles. Thanks to you I am free from all that this morning. You can use this in behalf of suffering humanity."
—B. F. Fisher, Roanoke, Ill.

This tobacco is the remaining portion of the old crops allotted to the independents and which they have not taken up to this time.

The storm at Galveston yesterday was greatly exaggerated in its violence. Only ten lives were lost, but there were many miraculous escapes and much property damage. Rev. Henry D. Aves, an Episcopal Missionary Bishop, was among the drowned. Fortified behind her sea wall, and elevated to a point above the danger line, Galveston passed safely through a hurricane which resembled somewhat in intensity the disastrous storm of 1900.
